Celebrate!

A collection of wonderful images from the “Celebrate What’s Right with the World” facebook page - featuring one of our frequent contributors:

Denise Neale Jensen

In photography, I’ve noticed that my internal focus shows in my images as much as where my lens is focused. Consequently, with every click of the camera a hint of a ‘selfie’ filters through.

Frequently, whimsy and fantasy seem to visit my Nature images ... not sure what that means but it makes me smile... and it’s a good idea to remember how to do that now and again.

This is why I find the guiding theme of Dewitt Jones’ website particularly compelling. He invites us to ‘Celebrate What’s Right’ through our own lens-to-the-world. It’s an invitation to capture and share the emotions life often leaves us holding in hand and heart.
NATURE’S WATCH

My composites are often inspired by anthropomorphic musings. Consequently, in giving a mushroom a new perspective, I found its eye immediately sought what soars in the sky.
THE DREAM FOREST

A visit to the dream world of Childhood and Nature - a place where forest children safely sleep under the doting limbs of an ancient grove.
TEA OF ENLIGHTENMENT

Have you ever gone to the sea at night to share a cup of moonlight?
OF THE FOREST

The earth and its people - our inseparable natures foretell our inseparable fates.
REFLECTIONS

If you were to peek through your own reflection, what would you see?
RENDEZVOUS

The Monarchs rendezvous, draping themselves in trembling tendrils throughout the secluded grove. A drowsy, peaceful gathering ... until an errant breeze rustles through the trees and thousands suddenly release their delicate hold. Stained glass wings lit by filtered beams begin a flickering fairy dance and enchantment fills the woods.
CENTERED

In Nature, seeking oneness and centering may take you on a path that is wonderfully askew.
HOPE

Hope starts as an intimate whisper from the center of the soul.
NIGHT DWELLER

Mysterious, otherworldly, and sometimes friendly, are the creatures of the night - like this beautiful Desert Banded Gecko.
RELEASED

Close and so alike, the siblings grew while tethered to their origin. Until, one day, a beckoning breeze whispered their release, their individuality.
GLAMOUR GIRL

Rescued from a busy street and transported to our garden, she preened and posed and stayed awhile.
THE TALK

I find if I’m still, and listen silently, Nature always finds a voice.
MORNING CUP

The night before, I placed a wilted flower in a cup of water - it had broken from its stem and looked exhausted, beaten down by life. However, in the morning, Nature was waiting with a message. The day’s first light had reached its upper petals and perking up again, it actually started to glow... as though it had literally just dawned on it; perhaps inner happiness is independent of what we go through and all can be made ‘right’ once again.
JEWELED LIGHT

My jeweled friend and I got up early the other morning to share the day’s first light and spring’s first nectar.
YOUR OWN 100 ACRE WOOD

Whether real or in your imaginings, its important to find one’s own ‘Hundred Acre Wood’ - a place you can go to breath and believe.
SPIRIT OF THE FOREST
Alone on a quiet hike,
I decided to look for the Spirit of the Forest.
I turned to find it looking at me.
BIRTH OF THE PAINTS

What we draw from Nature is often painted on us.
MORNING PEACE

I awoke to peaceful promises whispered in the vapor of early morning light.
MOTHER HAWK

A Mother’s work is never done - especially when new life’s begun.
GRATITUDE

Grateful for the morning rays, the Rock Rose spreads her crape-paper petals wide. In late afternoon she rains them down, decorating the life-giving soil below... a day well spent, a life well lived.
The Celebrate Webpage
(www.celebratewhatsright.com)

This is the webpage that gave rise to the Celebrate Facebook Page. It's full of images, videos, blogs, and quotes that can help to make everyday a Celebration. We invite you to partake in every part of it. Enjoy!

The Celebrate Themed Celebrations
www.celebratewhatsright.com/theme-celebrations

The is the site where you can find more of our wonderful theme or artist-based PDF collections. Enjoy all of the collections, download the PDFs and share them with your friends and family.

The Celebrate Facebook Page
(www.facebook.com/celebratewhatsright)

This is the site that all of the images in this PDF come from. Please come visit and enjoy the hundreds of celebrations posted here, then post your own and join the celebration!
About Celebrate What’s Right with the World

Over 300,000 people have visted the Celebrate website since it went live 5 years ago. More than 10,000 people have ‘liked’ us on Facebook and more than 20,000 photographic celebrations have been posted!

Amazing! We have shared thousands of uplifting visual stories of joy and beauty, happiness and love.

For all of us who have been involved in the project, we see how much it has changed us. Not so much in an intellectual way, but rather in a deep and abiding emotional way. By seeing life as a celebration, by focusing on all we have to be thankful for, we find ourselves filling with gratitude. First, perhaps, for the big things in life. Now, more and more, for everything - every cloud, every tree, every person, every opportunity, every breath. Living life to the fullest is so much easier through the lens of celebration. Imagine what life would be like if everyone saw life that way.

Come to our sites and join the celebration!